

Week 13

I thought it was really fun going through and using tinkerCad's tutorials, I thought they were really easy to go through and follow. However if I was to use it on my own I feel like I wouldn't really know what to do. There were so many things that made it feel like I didn't know what was really going on.

I really enjoy using code block, it reminds me some what of cinema 4d. I thought it was really fun and an easier alternative. I went through it pretty quick since it wasn't hard. It also allowed me to be creative and make whatever I want!

I would prefer code block rather than tinkercad, both are different and both entertaing!!
